HIS OWN LIFE AT FORD'S. Supposed to Have Been Suffering from Nervous Prostration-Son of Captain Charles B. Trevillan, of the Eastern State Hospital.

Mr. Houston Trevillan, a young man who registered at Ford's Hotel Sunday evening, committed suicide in his room atternoon. He was a son of Captain C. R. Trevillan, steward of the Eastern State Hospital at Williamsburg, a nephew of Dr. J. G. Trevillan, physician at the minently connected throughout the State. So far no reasonable excuse has been ffered for the act of young Trevillan. He came to Richmond last Thursday, and on Friday went to Goochland county with one of his aunts, who came back here my on Saturday afternoon, but his movements between that time and the hour of his registry at Ford's Hotel are not known to his friends. Sunday evening he was observed to be partially under the influence of liquor, but nothing was thought of this. Yesterlay about noon he came down into the lobby of the hotel, and approaching one of the clerks, had him write a note to me of his friends. This friend was not a home when the missive reached there, and soon after his return he was called Ford's by a pressing message, and on arrival found the young man dead.

STABBED ON BOTH SIDES. About two and a half bours after the note had been dispatched a chambermaid heard peculiar noises issuing from the room of Mr. Trevillan, No. 122. The apartment was entered and the unfortunate young man was found lying upon the edge of his bod, his head resting upon the edge of his bod, his head resting upon the edge of his bed, his head resting upon one elbow, with his neck and shoulders over the slop-jar. His neck showed a stah-wound on either side, both jugular veins had been cut, and the penknife that the suicide used to execute his chastly deed was still sticking in the opening on the left side of the neck. A peculiar fact in connection with the affair was that the young man bad so planned his death as to have all the blood from his wounds flow into the jar. There was not a stain upon the bed, and only a few drops reached the floor.

NO INQUEST NECESSARY.

Coroner Taylor was at once summoned and after examining the body came to the conclusion that no inquest was necessary. The remains were then turned over to Mr. Long T. Christian, the undertaker, and prepared for burial. Captain Charles B. Trevilian, father of the deceased, arrived in the city last evening. He will take the remains to Williamsburg for interment this morning. The blow was a terrible one to the parent, as it was to the sisters of the young man, Mrs. Moncure, of Williamsburg, and Miss Mary Trevilian. The latter, now on a visit here, is a talented young artist who has achieved considerable fame in New NO INQUEST NECESSARY. a achieved considerable fame in New ork city, her adopted home,

NEWS FROM CAPITOL HILL.

The Adjutant General's Hend quarters Too Small-Other Items.

The Governor, Auditor Marye and Treas urer Harman yesterday visited the new library building, with a view of sweing how those who are connected with this office could be made comfortable.

The room at present occupied by General Anderson and his assistants is about eral Anderson and his assistants is about one-half large enough, and it is probable that a change of the location of his apartments in the building will have to be made. The library commissioners will very likely hold a meeting in a few days and see what can be done in the premises. State-Senator Stabbs, of Gioucester county, was a caller at the Capitol yesterday.

Captain Sydney P. Epes, Register of the Land Office, is back from Pocahon-tas, where he went with the Nottoway company, whose commandant he is. Captain Epes apeaks in high terms of the deportment of his men. While the weather was more favorable than at the time when the Blues were stailened there for active zervice, still the duties are rather onerous, but they were promptly and faithfully performed by the military. Captain Epes thinks the situation at Pocahontas here. Pocahontas has greatly improved and that the entire trouble will soon be over. Auditor Marye is continuing to receive returns from assessors in all parts of the State.

Car Runs Into an Ice-Wagon.
Yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock while trolicy-car No. 31 was coming up Main street between Twelfth and Thirteenth it ran into the ice wagon of Mrs. Jane King, and the car came out very much worsted. The accident was apparently unavoidable, and the motorman, Mr. J. A. Mayo, seems to have been not at all to blame.

The car was running up the grade and overtook the ice wagon. The motorman tang his bell repeatedly, but the wagon was heavily laden with ice and could not turn off the track easily. In attempting Twelve stained-glass windows enhance the beauty of the chapel, and in design and workmanship reflect credit on the refined taste of Mr. Bunce, the artist. All are embelished with jewels and ornamental designs. On the lower sanctuary window the symbols of Faith, Hope, and Charity may tribute to the life and virtues upon the dam in the afternoon, and for in the hope of catching a perch. Late in the afternoon the water was shut sequence, began flowing over the dam. The boy had his pants rolled up above his window the symbols of Faith, Hope, and Charity pay tribute to the life and virtues of the late Mr. John Purceil, of happy memory. The upper sanctuary window, presented by Mr. John M. Higgins, the esteemed friend of the community, in remembrance of his wife, represents the Holy Bible, upon which rests a chalice encircled by a rosary. A dove hovers above the chalice and a lily lies at its base. On another window, also given by Mr. Higgins in memory of his two daughters, may be seen two doves drinking from a fountain.

Northumberland county, Va. She was reared by her uncle. Commodore Thomas Cateeby Jones. at his residence, Prospect Hill, near Washington, D. C., where she married Rev. Thomas C. Hayes, a member of the Baltimore Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church. She had lived a life of wonderful activity. She was during the war in the South, at Richmond, Va., and devoted her whole time to nursing the Confederates in the hospitals at that place, while her sons were in the army. She was a devoted Southern Methodist, and had her membership at Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, South, Madison avenue and Preston street. She was the leading spirit in organizing the Women's Southern Missionary Society, of which she was the first president, and remained so until sickness forced her to give up the work she loved so well. When the ladies of the Southern Church were forced to sevent her resignation they aged & years and I month. She was born the ladles of the Southern Church were forced to accept her resignation they made her honorary president for life. As president of the Woman's Missionary So-ciety, and its delegate, she went to London, in 1883, and was present at the session of the missionary delegates from all parts of the world. Her last sickness was protracted, and was the breaking-down of the whole system, having been ushered in by a partial paralysis, some ten years ago. Her funeral will take place from her late residence to-morrow afternoon, and will be conducted by Bishop A. W. Wilson and Rev. W. B. Chapman, of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Chapman, of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, South, and Rev. J. W. Duffey, of Central Methodist Episcopal church, South, The honorary pall-bearers will be Rev. W. F. Hammer, Rev. J. T. Wightman, Rev. C. D. Harris, Mr. Charles F. Diggs, Mr. E. B. Prettyman, Mr. Charles E. Biedler. The active pall-bearers will be W. Sanders Carr, T. R. Clendenin, B. L. Turner, Julian S. Jones, Dr. John J. Williams, and J. H. Sinch.

Sales of loose will be about as usual to-morrow.

Mr. N. P. Strause, of Henderson, N. C. was here to-day.

Visiting tobacco men from interior bright markets say that while planting has been very general, and is mostly over, yet there are a number of large planters who have not planted yet; the ground was cold and wet so long it delayed planting, and after planting was possible then came the baking-hot weather of the last ten days, which the tender rootlets, just from wet plant-beds, could hardly thrive on, so that next week and this will better determine the fate of the crop than now.

Business is light in interior markets. A good many new wrappers will be offered this week. Rehandlers are generally getting through with prizing, and will have a rest from buying till the new crop comes in. Warehousemen and speculators had to do a great deal of barn buying last season to get good tobacco to ship from their respective markets.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

Mr. Harthill's report, dated Louisville, June I, 1886, says: For all grades and styles of Buriey the market was very strong and active. For sweet, uniform packings in safe condition the outside figures of last week were realized, with the advance noted then fully sustained.

Receipts decreased this week 26 hogsheads. The total sales at auction this week were 2,688 hogsheads, against 2,568 hogsheads last week. Or original hogsheads 2,013, against 1,322 last week, Reviews, 619 hogsheads, against 579 hogsheads last week.

The transactions during May, as compared with April in this market, show a failing off of 3,551 hogsheads in receipts, 2,159 horsheads in sales, with 1,561 hogsheads
begs stock on hand at end of the month.

The sales from January, 1st this year, to date, show an increase of 4,382 hogsheads compared with same time last year, and 16,165 hogsheads over sales in 1793.

Offerings of Burley for the week:

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, H.L., June 2,—Wheat was form in the afternoon, but started weak in the morning. Good showers fell yesterday and last right through the Northwest aud West, and those sections sent dispatches of a marked revival in the plant mmediately. The Weather Bureau gave a forecast of showers for Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and other States that are still suffering from 90-degree temperatures, which was followed by a slump of over 2c, in heads, 2013, against 1.92 last week. Reviews, 619 hogsheads, against 579 hogsheads at week during May, as compared with April in this market, show a pared with April in this market, show a pared with April in this market, show a last shopsheads in deliveries, and 4.848 hogsheads of the month. The sales from January, 1st this year, to date, show an increase of 4.92 hogsheads compared with same time last year, and 16,165 hogsheads over sales in 1932.

Offerings of Burley for the week:

certainty of a large planting this year not likely to cut any figure in the course of the market for what is eft of good tobacco yet to be marketed.

The entire home-trade-buying contingent was in force every day, watching every hogshead which was suitable, paying attention, however, only to tobacco in good order. Speculative orders are also in the market for various styles and grades, looking for an advance later. Canada is out of the market. For export a fair business was done for the open Continental markets of Europe, at higher srices. The French regie buyers don't find it so easy to buy as they did some time ago. Very low grade exports, in soft order and mixed, now sell at 2 l-2 to 3e, with dry order much scarcer this week.

Ninety-six hogsheads new Burley sold find it so easy to buy as they did some time ago. Very low grade exports, in soft order and mixed, now sell at 2 1-2 to 3c., with dry order much scarcer this week.

Offerings and sales at auction only:
Burley tobacco only (this week)—Offerings, Louisville, 1225 hogsheads; Cincinnati, 1236 hogsheads, Cincinnati, 1236 hogsheads, Cincinnati, 135 hogsheads, Cincinnati, 136 hogsheads, Cincinnati, 1,032 hogsheads, Cincinnati, 1,032 hogsheads, Off new crop Burley alone, at auction (this week)—Offerings, Louisville, 1,522 hogsheads; Cincinnati, 1,019 hogsheads.

Green Rivers—A few scattering hogsheads of luss and common leaf were offered, but in very soft, undesirable condition, from which no definite lides of prices am be given.

Darks—The offerings were about as large as any week this season, with warehousemen much better satisfied with prices than for some time past, With the cendition and quality showing a little improvement, and a few more of the better grades, and rather better supply of lugs, buyers appeared more disposed to take hold generally, which resulted in higher prices all round, which I revise. Home trade stogle wrappers formed part of the offerings which sold up to $1-22, with regie buyers taking what suited or approximates. The offerings continue to be sadily short of standard Fronch and Italian regie leaf, with what prospect for improvement in the luture no one knows—out of such an undestrable crop—consequently careful buyers are much restricted in operating until they see more clearly what the future supplies.

Six hogsheads old, and 29 hogsheads new dark regie sorts sold privately this week. The Planting Season—We had, extremely dry, hot weather, up to 96 degrees in the shade, this week with partial showers, which led to very light received, with framers still busily engaged with crops in the field.

With good, seasonable rains in different parts of the western-tobacco belt, a large amount of planting of the new crop has been set out, in others much less; bur, on the whole, I estimate that 40 per cent, has been planted, and with the next good of t
